

$74 Million Going Back to Coal-Producing Communities

Marks a 10-year high in coal severance funds to local governments

Bell	$2.7 million	Knox	$928,196	Perry	$3.8 million
Boyd	$414,708	Lawrence	$483,400	Pike	$7.09 million
Breathitt	$882,125	Leslie	$3.08 million	Union	$13.8 million
Clay	$916,845	Letcher	$2.6 million	Webster	$2.3 million
Daviess	$461,962	Magoffin	$635,348	Whitley	$765,700
Elliott	$625,958	Martin	$2.5 million
Floyd	$2.1 million	McLean	$2.2 million
Harlan	$5.7 million	Menifee	$247,194
Henderson	$276,917	Morgan	$943,974
Hopkins	$7.2 million	Muhlenburg	$4.3 million
Johnson	$1.4 million	Ohio	$1.1 million
Knott	$3.4 million	Owsley	$640,497		